Dear Supporters,

The Storm Alert is the award-winning news magazine, and website representing Elkhorn South High School. The staff of this student publication would like you and your business to have a featured role in our publication. We have 2 more publication dates this school year where your ad will be seen by faculty, students, and families of Elkhorn South High School, as well as the administrative team, school board, and the Elkhorn community.

Ad sales are an important part of the journalism education program at ESHS. When you purchase an ad, you directly support student participation in local and national interscholastic journalism contests and workshops, and help students produce professional publications on multiple platforms. Please consider supporting the Storm Alert and our student reporters this year.

Sincerely,

Abbey Miller
